The Vermont Master Angler Program

Vermont's wealth of waters and abundant fish populations provide many opportunities to experience outstanding fishing. The Vermont Master Angler Program recognizes the achievements of anglers who catch trophy-sized fish from Vermont waters, and celebrates the clean water and healthy habitats that allow these fish to survive and grow to such exceptional sizes.

The Master Angler program is a length-based program that sets "trophy sized" benchmarks for 33 eligible fish species. While these trophy sized fish are a challenge to catch, they are attainable for anglers that develop the necessary knowledge and skills.

The Master Angler program encourages anglers to target species that haven't traditionally been considered sport fish. To do so, they need to grow as anglers and improve their knowledge of fish habitat, behavior, and feeding preferences and develop new skills required to target and catch these species.

Award Categories

The program offers two award categories for adults and youths:

Trophy Angler: Anglers catching a fish exceeding the minimum qualifying length in any of the 33 species categories receive a certificate commemorating their catch. Their names and catches are also included in the Vermont Master Angler Annual Report, posted annually on the Vermont Fish & Wildlife website.

Master Angler: Anglers demonstrating the skill necessary to catch multiple species that all exceed the minimum qualifying lengths, in the same calendar year, are recognized as "Vermont Master Anglers" and receive a lapel pin at the end of the year. To qualify for the annual Vermont Master Angler Pin, an individual angler must submit qualifying entries for 5 or more species within a calendar year.

The diverse and abundant sport fishing opportunities enjoyed each year by anglers across Vermont are a direct result of fisheries management and restoration activities conducted by the Vermont Fish & Wildlife Department. These activities are funded through fishing licenses and the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Program with money generated by user purchases of fishing equipment and motor boat fuels. The department's fisheries management and restoration projects help maintain and restore healthy aquatic ecosystems, clean water, and good habitat, benefitting anglers by supporting and providing quality sport and recreational fishing opportunities across Vermont.

2018 - By the Numbers

2018 was the ninth year of this popular program, and it had the third highest number of approved entries at 798. Overall participation (the number of individual anglers that submitted entries) was third highest overall, at 236. For more details, see Participation Trends, next page.

While 95% (755) of the entries were submitted by Vermont anglers, the program also saw participation by non-resident anglers from 13 other states: Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, and Virginia.

2018 Trophy Fish Entries

A total of 798 trophy fish entries from 236 anglers were approved in 2018:

- 565 entries from 167 adult anglers (33 Master Angler award recipients)
- 233 entries from 69 youth anglers (11 Master Angler award recipients)

The Master Angler Program continues to appeal to both adult and youth anglers; however there continues to be a large turnover rate in participation. Each year on average, slightly more than 50% of the adults and youth participating in the program are doing so for the first time ever. In 2018, 42% of the participating youth anglers were new to the program (down slightly from previous years), while 49% of adults were first timers. At the same time, this also means that nearly half of the anglers that participated in previous years do not continue, or they “drop out” of the program, at least temporarily. The Master Angler Program offers as many personal challenges as anglers choose to take on, and the Department of Fish and Wildlife encourages participants to seek out opportunities to target different species and fish on different waterbodies. Learning to fish for new and different fish species on unfamiliar waters is challenging and exciting and encourages anglers to develop new skills and techniques, which adds to the excitement and enjoyment of the fishing experience.

Species Breakdown

Entries submitted to the Vermont Master Angler Program in 2018 were a testament to the wide variety of fish species and the diversity of angling opportunities available in the state. Of the 33 fish species eligible for entry in the program, only two (American shad and muskellunge) had no entries.

Catch & Release

The Vermont Master Angler Program accepts and encourages entries for caught-and-released fish. In 2018, 538 of the 798 (67%) trophy fish that were entered were released to grow bigger and be caught another day! There were 260 entered fish (33%) that were harvested.

Locations – Where the Big Ones Were Caught

Similar to the diversity of fish species seen in the 2018 entries, the waters from which trophy fish were caught was also varied. Trophy fish entries were received from 93 different waters around the state. As in the past, the most entries came from Lake Champlain. The following is a list of waters where 7 or more of the 798 entries were caught. 641 (80%) of the total number of entries came from these 17 waters:

A Master Among Anglers

In 2018, Vermont angler Drew Price became the first person to successfully catch and enter trophy-sized fish for all 33 species recognized by the Vermont Master Angler Program. This was a remarkable accomplishment, considering the time and effort, not to mention the depth of knowledge needed to target and catch such a diversity of fish species.

Drew's feat exemplifies the mission of the Vermont Master Angler Program, which is to promote our state's amazing fishing opportunities, make anglers aware of the wide range of species that can be caught by hook-and-line, and encourage anglers to learn about and target fish they've never caught before.

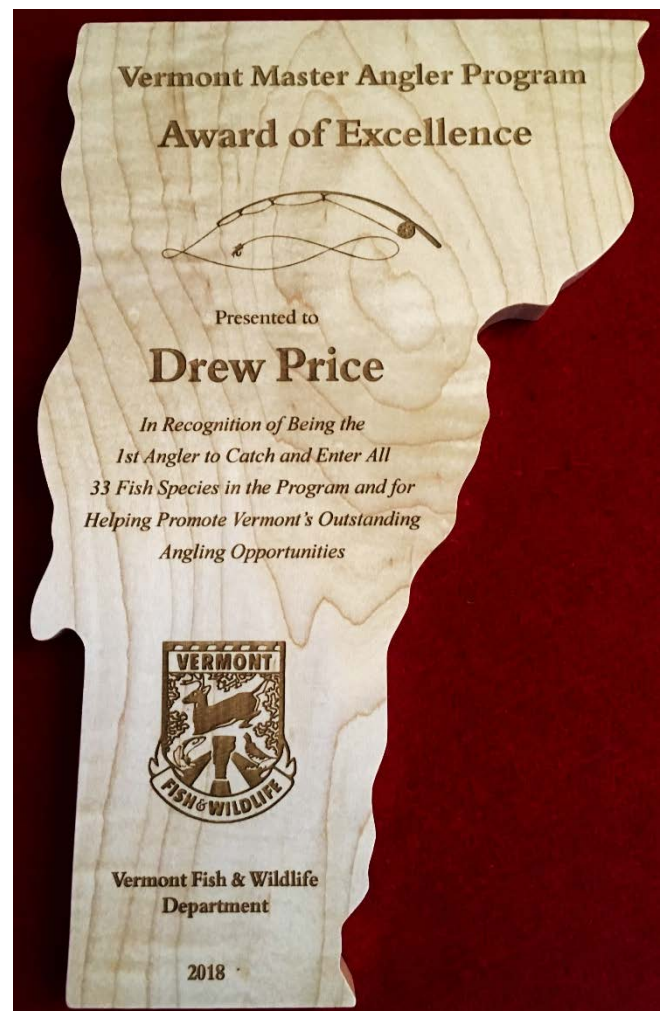

More than anything, Drew's willingness to adapt and fish "outside of his comfort zone" was what ultimately led to his success.

When Drew first started entering fish into the program in 2010, he was exclusively a fly angler, and had only really focused his fishing efforts on a handful of fish species. But over the course of the last 8 years, Drew studied fish habitat, behavior and feeding preferences, and learned new techniques to target species he'd never caught.

From ice fishing to open water spin-fishing with live bait, he constantly adapted and applied his newfound knowledge to catch new species, and in June of 2018, Drew finally caught the 33rd and last species for him on the list – a 30" pike-pickerel hybrid.

Drew's journey exemplifies the spirit of the Vermont Master Angler Program. Designed to inspire and challenge anglers, the program motivates them to fish more often and for new species, learning and growing as anglers along the way while taking advantage of all the wonderful angling opportunities Vermont offers.

If Drew's story inspires you, make 2019 the year you challenge yourself to learn about and catch something you've never caught before, and feel that excitement all over again!
